

Katy Espinales is a professional with 16 years of field experience in education and is currently the Education Manager at the Miami Children's Museum. She has worked as an instructor for The Children's Trust Afterschool Program, a lead teacher with the Miami Children's Museum Early Childhood Institute, a STEAM teaching artist in partnership with The Early Learning Coalition of Miami Dade/Monroe, and Early Head Start.

I look forward to continuing my commitment as an advocate for high-quality child care experiences for our children and our school community.
